COMPETITION

School Values Character Competition

This week we have launched a competition across school to help design characters to represent our school values. Last term a working party of pupils came up with the following animals:

- Caring Capybara
- Confident Cat
- Persevering Panda
- Teamwork Tiger
- Responsible Rhino
- Respectful Reindeer

Now we need your child's help to design some animal characters to help represent our values. Please encourage children to add clothing/accessories to their cartoon characters to help show their personalities.

Competition entry sheets can be grabbed from class teachers or the main school office - they should also appear on Tapestry and Seesaw too. There are prizes available for the winning designs.

All entries should be passed to your child's class teacher by Monday 23rd February.

Good luck Monkshouse and enjoy getting creative!

RECEPTION - DUCKLINGS

Fire! Fire!

As part of our topic "Help! Help!", the children have been learning all about the people who help us in our community. Last week, we were very lucky to welcome a visit from the Fire Service. The children took part in a brilliant discussion, where they learned about the firefighters' uniforms and the different pieces of equipment they wear and use. We then went outside to see the fire engine, and the children were thrilled to have the opportunity to sit inside and explore it up close.

This week, the Ducklings have been learning the song "London's Burning." They practised singing it as an echo, then altogether as a group, and finally in two parts using musical instruments. It was great fun and a lovely way to revisit and reinforce their learning from the Fire Service visit, helping to put the song into context.

YEAR 2 - KINGFISHERS

Kingfishers have been finding out about people's religions and worldviews. We asked family and friends if they belong to a religion and what views are most important to them. We were interested to find that people that belong to a religion and those that don't may have very similar worldviews. We then held debates about a range of views, with the children sharing and justifying their opinions; something that we have been learning to do in our oracy lessons.

YEAR 4 - CURLEWS

In Curlews this week, we have been getting messy during our science lessons. We have been learning all about the digestive system and to consolidate our learning, we decided to re-create it! First, we broke down some crackers and banana and added them to a bag with some vinegar to represent the stomach acid. We then squashed and smashed the bag to mimic the stomach walls breaking down the food. We then transferred the mixed-up food into a stocking and squeezed out all of the 'nutrients'. After that, we cut a hole in the stocking and out came out stool! The children were very excited by this experiment and thoroughly enjoyed it.

YEAR 6 - FALCONS

Falcons have been developing their deduction skills in History through a detailed exploration of Victorian-era census data. They carefully examined historical records to make thoughtful inferences about what life was like in different areas, including London and Worcester. Through rich discussion and collaboration, the children deepened their understanding of how historians use evidence to learn about the past.
